PROFILE SUMMARY

Aspiring web developer passionate about building clean, responsive, and user-friendly websites, with a strong drive to continuously learn modern web technologies and improve my skills.

I'm a developer with a deep curiosity for how things are built on the web. I enjoy blending code and design to build products that users genuinely enjoy, from small websites to more involved web applications. Outside of coding, I like exploring new places, riding bikes and cars, and experimenting with new technologies.
